WHO:

Jacob D. Steiger, MD, Facial Plastic Surgeon & Steiger Facial Plastic Surgery

WHAT:

Steiger Facial Plastic Surgery will be hosting a "Day of Beauty" event to ensure the women and men of South Florida are refreshed and rejuvenated for the coming season. Dr. Jacob D. Steiger, MD, will be offering secrets on the latest non-surgical advances for anti-aging and looking younger, no downtime facial rejuvenation tips and complimentary consultations. Special introductory pricing will be offered on facial rejuvenation procedures for those planning on being refreshed and renewed for fall.

The event also will feature fantastic food and refreshments in a fun, casual environment. All guests will receive goody bags and be entered into a raffle for prizes ranging from free syringes of Dysport (the "new" Botox) to free eCO2 Laser treatments (recently touted by Vogue Magazine as the biggest breakthrough in laser skincare in nearly a decade).

Supported by over a decade of clinical experience, Dysport has been used in the past on patients who were resistant to Botox. The product has been said to spread more easily than Botox, covering a larger area and causing less bruising and offers a cheaper price tag.

Fractionated CO2 technology offers minimal downtime by leaving untreated areas of skin between treated areas, while still offering the strength of CO2 treatments. Unlike other lasers, the Lutronic mosaic eCO2 premium laser allows surgeons to use various energy forms and patterns to achieve excellent results when correcting acne scarring, wrinkles, fine lines, color, texture, tone, and sun damage, and providing skin rejuvenation.
